

COVID-19 (Coronavirus)

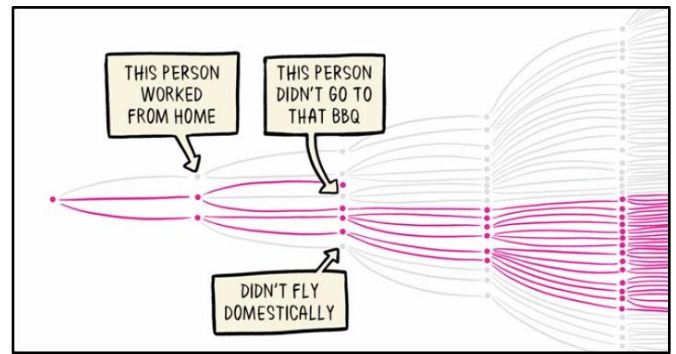

SOCIAL DISTANCING

The Government, media and businesses have released a lot of information surrounding social distancing by staying at least 1.5m away from others, one person per 4square metres for indoor spaces and encouraging people to stay at home unless it is absolutely necessary to go out (e.g. for work and essentials). Below are some images which illustrate how important these measures are in preventing the spread of the virus.

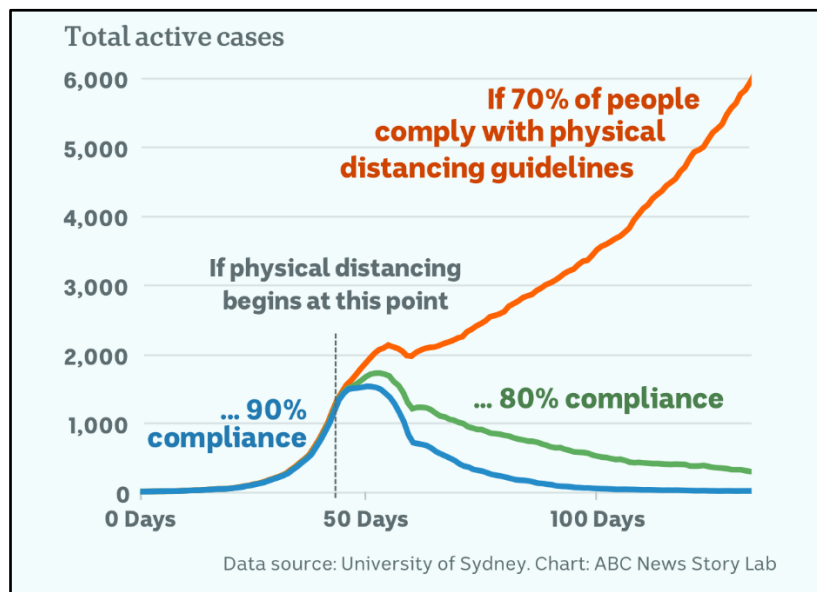

Without social distancing:

With social distancing:

The University of Sydney has also released a graph which models how effective social distancing measures can be in controlling the spread of viruses when they are adhered to. As you can see, the difference between the number of active cases for 90% compliance compared to 70% compliance is staggering. Effectively, if 8 out of 10 people stay home and practice social distancing then the country will very quickly contain the spread of the virus.

PREVENTION MEASURES

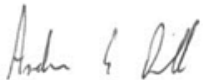

We would like to thank all our staff and contractors who are following the social distancing and hygiene protocols that have been set out. We really are in this together as the above images illustrate, and we appreciate everyone's efforts and support.

Sourcing supplies for infection control such as hand sanitiser and cleaning products is currently very challenging due to the huge demand for these products. However, when products become available, we are on wait lists with our preferred suppliers and hope to be able to secure some more supplies as soon as possible.

A reminder that we will reimburse any staff for the cost of hand sanitiser products if you are able to purchase any for use at work. Please submit a receipt with your timesheet for this to be processed in the next pay cycle.

Items we currently have available are gloves, masks, hand wash (soap) and disinfectant. If you need of any of these products, please contact us on the below details.

For any questions or concerns, please contact our WHSE Manager Caleb Fisher on 0474 298 202 or caleb.fisher@divalls.com.au.

Andrew Divall

Managing Director